"The After Life"

Would you follow me to a higher ground?
It must exist, heaven lost but it can't be found, was it worth the risk?
You and I we must make a pact, that together we will last
I had a vision and I made my decision
And now it's my mission to find Everybody goes where we lived our lives
And the place we go now that we're out of time
We will celebrate it in after life

You like to tell me that it's all made up, but I know it's true
Help a body and drink from the cup, I've enjoyed the view
Open your eyes and see that together we will be Like an illusion it's causing confusion, there's a new revolution
To find where everybody goes when we lived our lives
And the places we go now that we're out of time
We will celebrate it in after life

I'm not afraid anymore, I know you find a way In the middle of the night I see the light of day, in the after life
Open your eyes, open your mind then you'll see Open your heart, open your arms and then you'll feel
Open your eyes, open your mind then you'll see Open your heart, open your arms and then you'll find Where everybody goes when we lived our lives
And the places we go now that we're out of time
We will celebrate it in after life,
I will see you there in after life.
