Ed Wells

A casual look, a little wink

Can reveal just what you think

So don't be shy, don't even cry

For I am your guy. I am your guy.

A soldier boy when he proposed

She said "no," his face just froze

You know she loved him, but was so young

Can marry no one, can't marry no one

Oh darling can't you see That I'm goin' overseas

For two three four years Don't know how long it will be

So hear hear my plea And come marry marry me

Before it's too late

And so with a smile we walked down the aisle

She in her wedding dress a vision of happiness

And just to think, all it took

Was a casual look
