

Charlie Christos

"The North Shore"

Visit "The North Shore" on MotoLyrics.com

You don't have to work up the courage anymore
I'll only sing the songs that we have sung before
And only speak the words that we have spoke before
But then we'll only love the way that you've been loved before
And you can
Keep your foot to the road my friend
Lift your eyes when you think of me
Keep on going cuz time will keep
Carrying on downstream

What makes you run is it the fear of being known too well?
Or does the time you spend with her kinda make you see yourself?

Keep your foot to the road my friend
Lift your eyes when you think of me
Keep on going knowing time will keep
Carrying on downstream

Meet me at hearts end and tell me your story
I can almost believe in your words
You said, Into the river and onward before us
Leaving no stone unturned
But your leaving this stone unturned right here

Meet me at hearts end and tell me your story
I can almost believe in your words
I'll go before you into the fire
Abandon nobody to burn
You've abandoned this body to burn

Break your bread and say your Grace
Drink your wine at an easy pace
Keep on going knowing time will keep
Carrying on downstream

Thanks to razvan

