Where do I go when I need security, can I depend on you, like you depend on me, do my feelings only matter, when we're kissing in the dark, do you give it a thought, that you're tearing this woman apart.

Got a lot to do, this life's too short, and it takes too long, baby this don't seem right, are you my refuge, are you my home, if you can't shelter me, then I'll be moving on.

You wanted me to love you (love you baby), oh baby you succeeded (oh),
but you're still telling me lies, and makin' me cry,
I don't need it...

Who do I turn to, you never take time out for me, and who do I lean on, when this world fights against
me,
and where do I run to hide, who fights on my side, you know I need you, who do I turn to.

How many times, do i put my feelings on the line, for you to say, from where you stand everything's okay, since you've been with me, you said you've been so true, but when I'm not around, I know you've been with somebody new.

She's having a good time, tryin' to steal your heart, but you can't have two, either you're hers, or you're mine,
I played the fool, for much too long, as much as it hurts me, consider me gone.

You wanted me to trust you (trust you baby), baby you succeeded (oh),
but you're still telling me lies and makin' me cry,
I don't need it...

Who do I turn to, you never take time out for me,
and who do I lean on when this world fights against
me,
and where do I run to hide, who fights on my side, oh, you know I need you, who do I turn to, oh no, you never take time out for me, and who do I lean on, when this world fights against
me,
and where do I run to hide, who fights on my side,
you know I need you, who do I turn to.

Who do I turn to, you never take time out for me,
me,
and where do I run to hide, who fights on my side,
you know I need you, who do I turn to,
baby you never, you never take time out for me,
me, where do I run to hide, who fights on my side, you know I need you, baby who do I turn to.

oooh,
oooh.

Who do I turn to (who do I turn to), when I need, when I need somebody, who do I turn to, where do I run to hide (where do I run to hide), who do I turn to,
who do I lean on,
and where do I run to hide, ooh.
