Look at all the people on their way, as all the lies keep building up
Fed to us and growing day by day they just can't get enough
You can feel it, you see it, you know it yet they, show no signs of letting up
Who could blame them, the power it flows their way, we need to prove our worth

You wanted to take it all away
You wanted to squeeze the life from me
You wanted to force us all to say
We obey

Say we will not be, will not be denied
Or we won't go down, down without a fight, no

This world was not built for fairness, or self-awareness, compassion or even love
But if we can just break these walls down, maybe our minds can grow
Don't let them take this away from you
You know just what to do
Say we will not be, will not be denied
Or we won't go down, down without a fight, no

We are the saviours of all that we wish to be
We can see through you and
All of these trials we've gone through will cease to be
You can't squeeze the life from me

Time will slip away

Say we will not be, will not be denied
Or we won't go down, down without a fight, no
We are the saviours of all that we wish to be
All of these trials we've gone through will cease to be
You can't squeeze the life from me
Squeeze the life from me
