(Ray Griff)

I have every good reason to leave you
After the way you've hurt me so
But every good reason I have for leavin'
Never seems to be enough for me to go.

Every time that you're untrue I tell myself I'm leavin'
you
And I'll never see you anymore
By my heart always rules my mind and I forgive you every time
I never seem to make it to the door.

I have every good reason to leave you
After the way you've hurt me so
But every good reason I have for leavin'
Never seems to be enough for me to go.

--- Instrumental ---

I have every good reason to leave you
After the way you've hurt me so
But every good reason I have for leavin'
Never seems to be enough for me to go...
