(Dallas Frazier)

Totay's the first day of honky tonk season
I'm gonna take in every honky tonk in town
I've got a license to drink for lots of reasons
And honky tonk season will be opened all year round.

Although your clothes were never packed you left me a long time back
But kept on foolin' me by hangin' round
Up until your hungry eyes could find a better price
You found him last night and then you shot me down.

Today's the first day of honky tonk season
I'm gonna take in every honky tonk in town
I've got a license to drink for lots of reasons
And honky tonk season will be opened all year round.
