he takes his time when he says goodbye so i know it isn't easy to leave me behind when we're apart he finds a million ways to let me know i'm on his mind throughout the day now you would think that it'd be enough to reassure my fears when they come creepin' up but what it takes to calm my crazy mind is occupying all my time nobody wants to lose and have to build it all again but why do i play the end when we are still just beginning we're not running out of days and he's not going anywhere yea in a sudden twist a fate
it seems time is on my side my past has only left to me to believe that everyone will let you down eventually and i have tried every way i know to push that man right out my door but somehow he never goes he loves me with a patient heart and while i know that we may not be forever i'm grateful for the days that we left together we're not running out of days and

it seems time is finally on my side and now i, i'll be alright i'm in such a rush to get to where i'm goin that i fail to see i'm already standing exactly in the place that i want to be every moment that he's standing right by my side shows me there's only more to come i'm a girl who surely likes her guarantees but it's time to trust in something i can't see cuz we're not running out of days and
we're not running out of days and
