

Sienna Skies

"Common Ground"

Visit "Common Ground" on MotoLyrics.com

I say it's red
You say it's blue
I say it's a lie
You say it's the truth
How far have we traveled
Down this of extremes
I used to know you
You used to know me
Can we find some common ground
Where we can stand
And turn our hearts around
Can we find a place to leave
What's pulling us down
Can we find a way to find some
Common ground
It was so easy
When we first met
We lived all those moments
We'll never forget
But time has a habit
Of drawing a line
That makes a distinction
From your way and mine
All the distance between us
Would disappear today
If we could trace back the footsteps
That led us separate ways
I know it's not too late

Visit Sienna Skies page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.