We stare and look at the moon
We stare and look at the moon
We both don't know what will come out
Are these feelings shared?
Will they come flooding out?

We walk as we hold hands
I look at you and ask to dance
We hold each other tight
Gaze into your Eyes

The moonlight touches your skin
(Your eyes)
And then daylight begins

The stars light up the night sky
Staring and gazing Into your eyes
The stars fade out Into shades of blue
And then the sun will rise
It rises for you

The stars light up my world
And then the moon rises into the sky

Here is my heart it's yours
Hold it safe and dear
Cause now that you are holding it without you I can't live
I can't live

The stars light up the night sky
Staring and gazing Into your eyes
The stars fade out Into shades of blue
And then the sun will rise
It rises for you

And then together we will stop the world
As we wrap our arms around each other and share a kiss
As two lives have become one A feeling overrides
As we wrap our arms around each other and drift to sleep tonight

Drift to sleep
(We drift to sleep)
Drift to sleep

Drift (Drift)
To (To)
Sleep (Sleep, We drift to sleep)

We both don't know if we will last until the end of time
But we will try
I only she'd a tear for you my dear
