"Lift It Up"

Here I am again
I've been here before
I thought I could handle anything
But I don't anymore
Sorting through my scars
To leave them at your throne
Every time I am amazed
That I am not alone
And finally I understand
What my heart has known
Lift it up
To the arms of Jesus
Son of the Father
Author of love
To taste the victory
I must surrender
In Your name
I lift it up
Compassion floods my soul
Mercy soothes my mind
A touch unlike I've ever felt
Compels my heart to fly
And only by letting go
Can I get close to You
And I will lift it up
