"The Promise Land"

I close my eyes and dream about that day
When You come back, come to take me far away
To another place and time
Where everything is fine
But until that dream comes true
I know that I will follow You
There are mountains to climb
There are valleys to roam
There's a path I will take
'Til You come take me home
On this narrow road
I will stand
Holding Your hand
As we travel on to the promise land
When the night falls
And the stars are shining bright
In the heavens
There's an awesome show of light
But nothing in this world
Could compare to You
I can't wait to see Your face
On the day You choose to call my name
I know it's all part
Of Your perfect plan
That's leading me to the promise land
Whatever it takes
Be it small or grand
I keep my faith as You lead me
To that holy place
