"Trust The Mystery"

I am running in a circle
Spinning around
It seems I'm going nowhere
But it won't slow me down
Cause I don't need to know or see the plans that You've made
To know You've got a reason for this endless parade
I will trust the mystery
For the secrets of Your wisdom are Still unknown to me
I will trust the mystery
Even when I do not understand
I'll still believe
I will walk by faith and not by what I see
And trust the mystery
There is beauty in the silence
Grace that's unseen
It's not for me to figure out
What it all means
But You have proven time and time again that You care
And I don't need any evidence to know that You're there
When it seems like I am wondering in some wilderness
Searching with all my heart for Your providence
