When the dust has settled and the wind the only sound
Will you be the only, will you be the only
When the songs are all gone and voices a distant memory
Will you be the only, will you be the only
Will you be the only, will you be the only
Does it end when your the last one standing?
Does it end when your the last one standing?
When the world has crumbled and darkness all around
Will you be the only, will you be the only one When your the last one standing, I hope peace will be found
Will you be the only, will you be the only
Will you be the only, will you be the only one
All alone
All alone
All alone
Does it end when your the last one standing?
Does it end when your the last one standing?
Does it end when your the last one standing?
Does it end when your the last one standing?
Will you be the the only one?
