I wonder how it'd be if I met you another day
I wonder how you'd look, I wonder what you'd say
I wonder if you'd know me or you'd feel another way
All I fear is that you'd look and you'd turn your face
away

I remember well, when I was at school
I wasn't no rich, I wasn't no cool
I had a few friends, they weren't too bad
But if I'd seen you then I'd be scared to death
To be a loser, to be a dreamer
To be a joke, to be a quitter
I would never had dared even to talk to you
I didn't know how, I didn't feel up to
I was so far away, they said it was my way
But whatever it was, I didn't care what they said

I wonder how it'd be if I met you another day
I wonder how you'd look, I wonder what you'd say
I wonder if you'd know me or you'd feel another way
All I fear is that you'd look and you'd turn your face

How can it be that when we were young and strong
We seemed not to care, we never went for
The people who cared for us, people who were good for us
And you cared no more, I was like thin air
You did people wrong and you left 'em so sad
And now that you're old, you've got time to regret
And you don't come to me with some stupid excuse
You think I don't see it's all just a ruse
I know what you were thinking, it was just yourself
It was all about you, no space for nobody else

I wonder how it'd be if I met you another day
I wonder how you'd look, I wonder what you'd say
I wonder if you'd know me or you'd feel another way
All I fear is that you'd look and you'd turn your face
away
