When I was younger, so much younger than before
I used to be afraid, but I aint afraid no more.
Now I can understand all the shitty things I've been through
It used to be you pushing me, but now I'm pushing you
And I've been looking back on all the things I said
What else is running through my head?
My self confidence is my drug, I'm feeling high and mighty.
Thoughts focus as my ears unplug, everything is so exciting.
I used to get my kicks from sticking needles in my vains.
Now I'm on the crucifix
my face as red as the ground
my blood has stained...
