Now, it seems you wanna be
The person that you used to be
And everything it seems to me
Is just another thing called fate
Well, that's exactly what you're making

Everyday you feel the same
And everything gets in your brain
Well, I don't think you'll find the places
That you used to be called home
This is how I feel about you

I suffered everything
You think you feel the same
If you ever wanna be
With me then think again

Well, I don't care if you need me
Well, I question everything, let me tell ya what I say
Honey, I know it all, still you wonder
If I'll stand or if I'll fall
But honey, I won't take the spill

Now, it seems you wanna be
The person that you used to be
And everything it seems to me
Is just another thing called fate
And that's exactly what you're making

Everyday you feel the same
And everything gets in your brain
You'll never ever find the places
That you used to be called home
And this is how I feel about you

I suffered everything
You think you feel the same
If you ever wanna be
With me then think again

Well, I don't care if you need me
I question everything, let me tell ya what I say

Honey, I know it all, still you wonder
If I'll stand or if I'll fall
But honey, I won't take the spill
