"Jaded"

I never meant to leave you
My heart was lost inside
I faded all that you knew
I washed away with the tide
I try to explain my intention
I threw away our passion
She's got that magic potion
I chose th breathe emotion
I saw you standing there alone
I turned away the face I've known
I fear myself for losing touch
A broken friend, his jaded trust
The strenght that i see in you
I see you are wise
And I've always believed in you
I just look deep in your eyes
