he was her hero
he picked her up when she was down and didn't care when she was wrong she loved him more than anything it broke her heart to let him go but she let him go

all she wrote
was that she loved him
pen in hand and trying not to cry all she thought was i don't need this all she wrote was goodbye

she had a revelation he wouldn't ever take her back she couldn't get it right he didn't even regret it was easy to let her go so he let her go

she told him that it was over

and didn't wait for his reply if he was going to say anything it was just too late

[chorus]
