This question was on my mind
This question 's one of a kind
One very important question
What will we eat tonight?

I ask it every day
And he answer is always right
One very important question
What will we eat tonight?

I can't wait
Till the moment it happens
I can't wait to ask them this question
I can't wait
Till I know the answer
I can't wait
I just want to know it

Next one was crossing my mind
Everybody asks this once
Second important question
Will we go left or right?

These questions are ok
They help you through the day
I ask them all the time
Because I just can't wait

These questions are ok
They help you through the day
I ask them all the time
Because I just can't wait
