"Bread"

I'm drifting
Into a world I've never seen before
Should I run or should I go unlock the door
I'm so scared that I will never want no more
I didn't think that I would be afraid
To be saved, to behave
Cause all I ever wanted was to play

You think that I'm on fire
My lifeline's burning fast
Can't live off soul desire
Shooting stars all run off gas
Where's your reason
Use your head, I never said
That I could make it just off bread alone
And so I'm shown that all I've known
Is all I ever wanted was to play

We all know that it's a long road
I'm dreaming wide awake
And now I wear a blindfold
Riding on a twist of fate
Where's your reason
Use your head, I never said
That I could make it just off bread alone
