"One Last Dime"

Aggravation
All the time
I'm down to my last ten dollars
Think I'll go and buy a dime

I feel stagnation
Under my feet
I'm in debt for borrowed time
It's hard to sow all that I've reaped

I'll stay in the dark
Until I see the light
Cannot find direction
Spinning all around

My next paycheck
Already spent
Passion sometimes burns your nose
Either live or pay the rent
My attention
Is faced the wrong way
Everyday my dreams are dying
Every night I kneel and pray

All that's lost
All I gave away
All that's here
It doesn't matter anyway
