"Slow Burning"

Visit "Slow Burning" on MotoLyrics.com

I am alone no time for myself
Can't figure out where I had gone wrong
Slow as a stone, but in better health
I've walked about, but this river's too long

Tell me whose on my side
Won't you help me to win my fight

Hide myself from every mirror
Don't want to see what has remained
Think the riddle is getting clear
I have one die to play your game

Am I going or unwind
Either way I'll walk your line

Hard to keep myself from sinking
Even though I feel the drain
Stay up every night late thinking
How much more could I obtain
