We are not prepared to let you see us to the ground

Find your inner strength and run
The blood flows between us; an ocean of red
The cracks in society grow wider still
Your life discarded on a whim

Where is your faith as it all goes to shit?
No savior, no god, no hope for escape

Together, we create a force stronger than we'll watch shatter before us
Together, we create a force stronger
I will come back for you

Your temples hold no shelter
Mankind, lost in the seas of shattered morals
Burning cities, cruxes led a cross
I won't laugh at false idols

I will
I will come back for
I will
I will come back for you

Blegh
