Sun is up and greets with a grin, let me know, that I was in,
go outside with a smile on my face, jump in my car and leave this place, I heard, all the news, there is no offer, that I wouldn't refuse, now come time, for me to run, sorry people, but i'm not the one, so I think I have to split a match and think about it, I'm on the run for fun don't have to shout it, just like a ? on the Saturdays around it, try callin' when you think that you found it, enjoyin' all the sides throughout the ride, led my cheer be my guide, i'm seventy in, i wanna ride up the city, some cristall clain here and I swear it's a pitty city sparkle, flashin' twilight, just like a big daydream, in the middle of night, smooth jump and fun, as I heard of town, gone sirk in the night I said next time I take time to peace me to down, arrivin' at my destination, never know where is all frustrations, cool as I want, in a easy chair, happy just to know, that I'm gonna be there, yeah,
