Tell me how long has it been
Since I've made it
Since I've been here
The road is so far
Is so hard
I don't know why
Why do I sing when there's no one listening?
I'm fighting off the world
There's no hope
There's no love

And when we find ourselves
Swimming through an endless sea of hate
We realize
We cannot escape our fate

But if we struggle through our destinies
Without turning to the past
Then we might find
A single love that's meant to last
