When you're asleep at night I'll walk inside your dreams
Safely surrounded by non-existing things
Open your inner eyes and look around you
Since you know this is in your mind, look for your future self
In my reflective world I'll wait for you
I can't deal with reality until I know the truth
Am I your impending hope and can I save your life
Will we be separated until the day we die?

I'm falling through the stars
I'm falling through the sea
The center of the earth
Awaits my company
I'll fly above the moon
And break through Saturn's rings
I will do anything
To reach my destiny

Fly like a comet in the exosphere
So I know that you're coming, I'll be waiting here
And I know that I'm dreaming but I'm waking up to see
That, just as it happens, you might be the one for me
We're on a great journey just to find ourselves
Except it'd be a lot easier if we had someone else
So I'll stay with you if you will be my guide
And we'll race through the stars until the worlds collide

I'm falling through the stars
I'm falling through the sea
The center of the earth
Awaits my company
I'll fly above the moon
And break through Saturn's rings
I will do anything
To reach my destiny
