"Silent Echoes"

I'm leaving the world in my dreams behind
Something real is out there for me to find
Looking through the dark 'till I can see the light
But though those dreams could never be
Your love has come to set me free
It echoes through the walls
And now it's time for me
To answer my call

Look up and I see the daylight fading
Into the winter sky
Soon I'll escape from the things I've done
Where the sun melts the frozen tears you cry

Someone up above me whispers in my ear,
"I can see you, and I'll never let you down"
A flash of lighting will not break me, there's no need to fear
Can't see my dismay when your face is all around

I'm leaving the world in my dreams behind
Something real is out there for me to find
Looking through the dark 'till I can see the light
But though those dreams could never be
Your love has come to set me free
It echoes through the walls
And now it's time for me
To answer my call

The stars are falling one by one
Never to appear again
I'll see something brighter than the stars That's when

The gray clouds turn to flowers, the flowers turn to gold
On the final day where I'll see love once more
I'll gather up the strength to leave everything behind
Say goodbye to everything I've known before

I'm leaving the world in my dreams behind

Something real is out there for me to find
Looking through the dark 'till I can see the light
But though those dreams could never be
Your love has come to set me free
It echoes through the walls
And now it's time for me
To answer my call
