Life hasn't always treated me kindly
There's some hard lessons I have learned
Hard knocks and bad luck have been denying
All of my bridges have been burned

So if you care to come walk with me
Then I'll show you what's become of me

So join me in my misery
I will share it with you
Come join me in my misery

Come with me baby...

All my dreams lay scattered around me
All the things I will never have
Shattered dreams are all that surround me
And that's all I'll ever have

So if you care to come walk with me
Then I'll show you what's become of me

So join me in my misery
I will share it with you
Come join me in my misery

And I can't be the one that you need
I won't promise to be what I can't be

So join me in my misery
I will share it with you
Come join me in my misery

Come join me in my misery...

So join me in my misery
I will share it with you
Come join me in my misery

My misery...
