i dont want you in my passanger seat not anyone can be my shotgun,i dont want riding next me i ride alone i remeber all those times i went to pick you up at your momma's house in my pick up truck we'd drive by the town like a lighting bolt no place to go just dreams and hopes weed and flow is all i need i tried to tell you before you went and you fell for me and i fell for you for a second or two but i caught myself by the string of my shoe now im singing to you that im sorry to let you know that i gotta let you go i only got one love one heart one mind one drug turn it up i dont want you in my passanger seat not anyone can be my shotgun i dont want you riding next to me i ride alone ay yo all those times i left and came right back like a boomerang or an echo on a track you can sue my thoughts when im hear or there, near or far. just give me a call dont take my pictures off the wall just yet i gotta go right now but ill be back in a sec, im gonna miss you like i miss my bed lying there crying with my pillow on my head, no women no cry no fear no tears in my eye know why, i dont want you in my passanger seat not anyone can be my shotgun sally, i dont want you riding next to me i ride alone, sitting all alone waitin by the phone but you dont know what to do, daddys upstairs but we know you dont care, you can cry cry cry yourself to sleep i know everythings gonna be alright without you, without you, one love one heart one mind one drug turn it up, i dont want you in my passanger seat not anyone can be my shotgun, i dont want you riding next to me, i ride alone, i ride alone, i ride alone
