"Blue Mountain"

I want to go now, I really want to travel
I have a few locations in mind
But it doesn't really matter
Well the outback attracts
I've read about the Blue Mountains
I hope I get a change that sticks
Don't want to be stuck anymore

I have a vision but no plan
I didn't know there was a ban
All these routines get you settled
Sometimes I feel content with this serene
But too much is undone, a tired retire for me

It's always so dim where I live no wonder it is hard
To get a clear view of what to do and not just moan
I want sun when I land, I like that steamy feeling
I want to be alone, no one to hold my hand
Don't want to be stuck anymore
