Return to reality avoiding the treachery
Return to reality

Witness against the fools of the world playing a game
so cruel
How long before the lesson is learned, will it be understood Witness against the fools of the world caught up in their own trap
See how they look so insecure just holding their weakness back

Return to reality avoiding the treachery
Return to reality

Suddenly stripped of focus in life, suddenly faced with loss Hitting just like a slap in the face bringing it down to earth Channeling this aggression confused how will it manifest
Keeping the sanity without just keeping it all repressed

Return to reality avoiding the treachery
Return to reality now

In the end what presents itself is the truth and the ugliness
Never seen when the eyes are closed or blinded
The effect of the file world amplified upon return
And so tempted to play the game so malicious

Witness against the fools of the world playing a game
so cruel
How long before the lesson is learned will they ignore the words
Witness against the fools of the world caught up in their own trap
See how they look so insecure fakely hard in their own act

Return to reality avoiding the treachery

Return to reality now
