I'm no villain, I'm no saint, I'm just an innocent pedestrian.
She promised me her all, packed her things, than she turned and ran.
She never gave me a reason to stay,
When she had him all along, she made a fool of me.
I can't do this anymore, under the given circumstance.
There is no love between us, no god damn romance.
I can't believe this situation yea, became so absurd.
I can't believe that I ever went and trusted her.
Why do I do this every time?
No reason for it, no wrong or right.
They always do this to me, they always pull me in!
Why do I do this every time?
Deep down, I know that It's not right.
They always do this to me, but I'll never ever be him.
Take this as a disclaimer to all you future victims,
Keep an eye out for all unstable vixens.
Keep it together, control yourself.
Keep your head above water and fuck everything else.
But it's okay, I'll be alright.
You got your chance at a second life
I'm still alive, we braved the storm
I found that friends mean so much more
Than any word you could spit my way
Don't you fucking smile when night turns day
Check your lists and check your facts
Cause nothing you can do will do will bring me back.
BRING ME BACK!
