Would you send me to a lion's den
would you
would you leave me insecure should you
does it matter who you kill again when everyone is gone

Do remember you had me on my parole so remember I had you after all no more pleasure no more fun for us
'til they pay the toll

Would you scare a crow away from me would you psychopathic little man so confused would you peck out both my eyes just to be a hero You alone for us all for them all

If so
heat is in my veins
I adore
you deny
falling into lies feed me from inside
you betray
but I'm ok
drawing us two

Something bitter is inside of you but don't you poison all of us with that
would you
stabbing in the back has always been the thing you do best

This is what makes us different from you
this is what makes you dead a dog and cruel when you rip out both my eyes just to be a hero You alone for us all for them all

If so
heat is in my veins

I adore
you deny
falling into

Would you send me to a lion's den
would you
does it matter who you kill again do you

from you

heat is in my veins
I adore
you deny
you betray
