"I Still Cry"

Every place I go I see you
In the face of every girl
In your voice I hear so very clear inside me
I don't wanna let my heart know
That it's been so very long
Is the feeling there do you still care about me?

And in the dark of night I start to lose control Pain and hurt just gets so bad till that finally takes it's toll
And though the past is far behind us
I just can't I forget despite how hard I try
Would someone tell me why
Oh, why if time could heal all wounds then why do I still cry?

Oh, I need you back so badly
I can't live another day
Till it's me and you and the love we knew together
I'll do anything you name it
Baby, help me stop these tears
Let me hold you tight and make things right forever

Coz and in the dark of night I start to lose control Pain and hurt just gets so bad till that finally takes it's toll
And though the past is far behind us
I just can't I forget despite how hard I try
Would someone tell me why
cry?

And I know that we could bring it back once more
That time and love was in our hearts before we went and closed the door
And though the past is far behind us
I just can't I forget despite how hard I try
Would someone tell me why
Oh, why if time could heal all wounds then why do I still
cry?

Oh, why if time can heal the wounds inside us

And make the world a place we can trust
So much time goes by but, baby, I still cry
Baby, I still cry
