"Yesterday"

You said that yesterday you had thrown it all away
Walking out the door but you never really went away
Yeah
Falling in and out of place in this sore society Your dreams were all destroyed and you have me to thank

A time to learn
A time to understand Standing underneath the stars
I slowly tried to hold your hand

Yesterday has come and gone, and now you're only stronger
All the crooked roads and paths that you follow no longer
Falling in and out of place with this sore society
Your dreams were all destroyed and you have me to
thank
