I've wondered of too far this time
I should have bit down my tongue this time
Well I hope you enjoy disappointment Cause' that's what I am, that's all I've ever been

It's in your blood, can't calm myself enough
I'm drawn to you, there's nothing I can do

Save your soul, save your soul

What done is done, won't cause' you more harm now
Oh, distract me please I need to calm down now
But I let your scent arouse me one last time
And now it's so damn hard to let you slip away

I can't control withdrawal from this affection
One night, one kiss that started this addiction

Save your soul, save your soul

I won't put you through anything like this again
I'll let your heart, your soul be untouched

If I could sleep then I'd see us and what could have been
Burning in my heart and I know you're wrong

I must be strong and keep my shit together
Cause' otherwise I'll keep falling forever

Save your soul, save your soul...
(for someone else)

Save your soul, save your soul...
(if I could sleep then I'd see us and what could have
