"No Need To Apologize"

You say that this isn't over
I say this is finally done
Take a good look in the mirror
You took the blame for way too long

Happiness and sadness falling
Into one place once again
Our hearts have slowly drifted, parted
On our separate sides we stand

No need to apologize
I see the pain in your eyes

I know this wasn't supposed to happen
I know this turned out so wrong
But sometimes stories end up sadly
And sometimes good guys take a fall

Deep down I know that this will change us
I know this will do us good
Hope you know I'll always be here
I'm sorry that I was so wrong

No need to apologize
I see the pain in your eyes

No need to apologize
I see the pain in your eyes
