There are those questions in my mind
That may never have an answer
Not while I'm walking in this life
So, I'll just wait for ever after
All I need now
Is what Heaven sent down

I know that You can heal
A broken heart that cannot feel
I know that You can take
The pain away
I know that You can see
My tomorrows so clearly
I know that You can do anything
I know that, I know that
That's what I know

There are those mountains I must climb
That could leave me cold and lonely
But all Your promises are mine
And I believe in what You've told me
I will trust You
As You carry me through

I put my faith in You
You gave me Your peace
And I'm a testimony
Of the hope You bring
