I heard your voice today
It echoed through my mind
I can't stand the thought of losing you
And I'm so dumb these days are gerring so confused

I wish i could have a chance
To be with you lady again (again)
Can't find the words, I cant find the words (happiness lies without you)
Just know happiness lays with you and the birds
You and the birds, the birds, the birds
Singing on a summer's morning

Why are you so far, so far away?
Now the moment's gone, the moment's gone (So far, so far away?)

Took so long to find you then you fly away again

(I heard your voice today)
I heard your voice today (It was on my)
It was on my answering machine
I played it back again and again and again (and I regret)
And i regret not listening more clearly
When I was drinking
Oh, the words you said
With a daintly little whisper (with a dainty whisper)
With a daintly whisper, whisper

Sinking in you sand I saw my hard still weeping for your lure
You are the clover I have warmed to
The blossom always growing in you heart
Now I think I love you
I think I love you

Why are you so far, so far away?
So far, so far away?
Now the moment's gone. The moment's gone
The moment's gone. The moment's gone

Look at the calendar, how long 'til I see her?
I got to plan. To see you in that distant land
Try to live
I want you to be here
You opened up so much. I wanted to come up and hug you

But your five thousand miles away
Up in the sky to have to fly away from here
Here the gravy smear
From here, here the gravy smear
Just say whenever
Want to be with you now lady out of this
Gray climate
Too true
So take a look into the mirror
Shiver, shiver, vagabond!
Take a look at the state of the
The beast in front of me now
How could you desire a beast like me? A beast like me?
So far away, I can not take it!
Feel alright? Feel alright? Feel alright?
I wanna try to walk out of theres no ground beneath my feet now Feel alright? Feel alright? Do you feel alright?
As we sail in through this dream of summer love?
