The day has come to start again
To change the world that you are in
Walk through another set of doors
See through my eyes forever more

Come up to my level set you free,
Another heart for me,
Realize what you can't see

Now that you know what I have left
Don't let it slip and go to rest
Keep running down the path I laid
Get ready for the life you made

Come up to my level set you free
Another heart for me,
Change the rules don't be a sheep

Give it your all
Show me what you have now

Forget all your troubles
Give in and feel the same
Push back when you're cornered
Don't play their game
Souls should never be tamed

Come up to my level set you free
Breathe the skies
Come up to my level set you free
Put to use my remedy
My remedy
