I dislike your uniform 'cause you're just way too stiff
Were you like that the day you were born or did you
Change just recently?
Nature does rule in anarchy just watch the children play
The system creates it's enemy to grab our throats
At the end of the day

We're drifting orphans of a vile philosophy.
I am a child terrified by the hand leading me.

It's the Fountain of Youth
In a Garden of Sickness
It's a place where you lose
All your rights for forgiveness

I'm contributing day by day to this society
Searching for a better way but the flesh is weak.
My reflection in a shard - staring back at me.
It's a fucked up heritage, it's a fallen family.

We're drifting orphans of a vile philosophy.
I am a child terrified by the hand leading me.

It's the Fountain of Youth
In a Garden of Sickness
It's a place where you lose
All your rights for forgiveness

Pretending innocence the court is drowning it's doubts.
Let the kings pay off for this.
The corpses sway to the final dance.
