"Dying Young"

Visit "Dying Young" on MotoLyrics.com

Everything is worth while I regret the times I didn't spend Watching the flowers grow

It doesn't seem to matter
Anymore who's up or who's loosing
And my children look so strange

Our problems start when we don't die young

My hopes died along with hapiness
Simplicity has become so complicated
From this point on it's down

Our problems start when we don't die young
when we don't die young
when we don't die young
Our problems start when we don't die
when we don't die young
