"A Simple Mistake"

think for yourself you know what you need in this life see for yourself and feel your soul come alive tonight here in the moment we share, trembling between the worlds we stare out at starlight enshrined, veiled like diamonds in..

...time can be the answer, take a chance, lose it all it's a simple mistake to make to create love and to fall so rise and be your master you don't need to be a slave of memory ensnared in a web, in a cage i have found my way to fly free from the constraints of time i have soared through the sky seen life far below in mind breathed in truth, love, serene, sailed on OCEANS OF BELIEF

searched and found life inside, we're not just a moment in time...

....can be the answer, take a chance lose it all
it's a simple mistake to make to create love and to fall
so rise and be your master you don't need to be a slave
