What was mine, that was yours
We roamed the place together.
I had my keys, you had yours
We explored the whole empire.

I showed some chords
And so you played some others.
Then we ran to the sea,
Pretending we were pirates.

We saw, the Sun
As going underwater
Sand was the floor
And all we felt was joy.

I think you felt this way to
We're here to celebrate the world!

I'm glad that you were there too,
You met the child within you,
I think you feel the same too,
We're here to celebrate the world
