I remember waving
As my ship began to leave
Sadness in my silence
Teardrops on your sleeve
So sad to watch love grow
Around the seed you sow
And then to let it go

Loving you was more than just a sunset
In my memory
Like the passing clouds
My thoughts drift round your image
Endlessly

Seasons are revolving
And my spirits wane
I just have to know that
I'll see you again
You gave me the stars at night
You spread the morning light
Our loving glowed so bright

Loving you was more than just a sunset
In my memory
Like the passing clouds
My thoughts drift round your image
Endlessly

I remember waving as the sun rolled down
Into the sea
