"Sea and Sand"

Takes me to a far away place where I don't know who I am Need a trip on a ferry boat hidden in the sand.

Now I call myself a persuader though I haven't moved and I might never come back.

Stranded on my island by myself do I need somebody else.
Hiding from the weeks and days, hiding from the years.

Though I try to hold it back can't hide the tears.

But now I'm by myself my pride is walking away and though I beg my friends to stay, now I know it's better this way.

Found a bottle with a message inside floating on the shore, someone that asked for help but it's no use no more cause I found it much too late, it wasn't my fault oh,

hope they won't say
the same about me.
