"Sunset"

Visit "Sunset" on MotoLyrics.com

Monday afternoon it's a cloudy day and the sun is setting black and white but a greyish light breaks thru the sky and the moon is on the other side.

And I'm waiting here for you and I need you baby and you know it's true.
The neon lights go on the wind rocks the trees and it weaves on all night thru

I've got a feeling deep inside you're not coming back and the day will break without you

And I think about what I thought I had outside,
Is there nothing I can do.
