Oh what a strange girl
The bluest eyes in the universe
A pale skin like ivory
I don't know where she's coming from
She says we can fly together through the night
What a strange girl

Oh she takes me by the hand and she says with a twinkle "keep your eyes wide open"
Then we lose the ground under our feet and we start to float
Oh higher and higher
We are swimming in the sky like floating birds
The flashing city lights
Like a tiny model railway on a playroom called the earth
What a strange girl

The bluest eyes in the universe
A pale skin like Ivory she still holds my hand
And I feel the loving kindness of the twinkling stars
What a strange girl
