You're running wild, how long can this go on?
You're leaving me alone and running wild
You're always gone, my love you'll never share
It's more than I can bear, stop running wild

You'll settle down someday and find I've gone away
You think of what you've done while running wild
This can't go on, you'll have to choose your way
You'll have to go or stay, stop running wild

You'll settle down someday and find I've gone away
You think of what you've done while running wild
This can't go on, you'll have to choose your way
You'll have to go or stay, stop running wild

You're running wild
